

Need help with utility bills? Average benefits are $500, with a maximum of $1,400.

WHAT IS IT?

Minnesota's Energy Assistance Program helps renters and homeowners keep homes heated, lights on and more.

WHO IS IT FOR?

People who rent or own their home and struggle with their utility bills can qualify.

HOW MUCH CAN I RECEIVE?

- Average benefit is $500, with a maximum of $1,400, depending on household income and fuel costs.
- Free repair or replacement of homeowner's broken furnace.
- Free energy efficiency home upgrades that can permanently lower your bills.

AM I ELIGIBLE?

Household Size	Annual Income
1	$35,799
2	$46,814
3	$57,829
4	$68,845
5	$79,860
6	$90,875

Apply for Minnesota's
Energy
Assistance
Program

- For more information visit: mn.gov/home
- Para más información visite: mn.gov/hogar
- Wixii macluumaad dheeraad ah, booqo: mn.gov/guriga
- Yog xav paub ntxiv, mus saib: mn.gov/tsev

1-800-657-3710

We want all households to feel safe when applying. We do not record or report the immigration status of any undocumented household members. If a household has a mix of citizens/eligible residents and ineligible residents – for example, those on student visas or undocumented – you may still be eligible for energy assistance, and we encourage you to apply.